

REVIEWS

Salvation - The Silent K Band
963 views · Aug 28, 2020

- Ross McEwen-Page 1 year ago
Fantastic all, really dig this one! Keep them coming please
2 REPLY
- Andres Felipe Martinez Osorio 1 year ago
Great job folks :o
2 REPLY
- Chicken Leg 1 year ago
Sweet :D
1 REPLY
- Дмитрий Симаков 1 year ago
👍👍👍
1 REPLY

Scary's Reviews
2h · 🌟

The Silent K is a four piece rock band from Melbourne, whom had a gig at the Bendigo hotel on Thursday night. Said to be like Tool meets Evanescence, The Silent K has managed to meld Progressive metal with Gothic aesthetic to their liking. This is an interesting set of influence to witness seeing a band utilize such styles. Thursday night was great for the Silent K to breakout of being lockdown and stuck for so long. Though the time they had was great for them to grasp all their ideas and get ready to kick ass. The silence was broken as the band was awoken and answered their fans prayers with a solid set. The Silent K have a video for their song Salvation, which uses clips of riots and fights during 2020, it is an anthem and a well structured video. The performance of each member is as strong as their passion for the music, and their determination to make 2021 their year shows with their charisma, commitment and versatility. https://www.facebook.com/TheSilentKBand/?ref=page_internal